Chicago Tribune.

VOL. XXI. CHICAGO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1867. NUMBER 61.

Situations Wanted.

WANTED—Expert bold Insurance Solicitors to represent one of the oldest and most reliable companies in the country. Address P. O. Box 5141, Chicago, Ill.

WANTED—A boy to run errands and work in a store. Must live with parents. Apply at 147 LAKE STREET.

WANTED—A first class traveling salesman for the wholesale and retail trade, who is acquainted with the business and can give satisfactory reference. Address, with full particulars, P. O. Box 5141, Chicago, Ill.

WANTED—Like number of canvassers. Steady employment, large commissions, and a rare chance to make money. Call at 115 Clark street, Room 5, from 9 to 12 A. M.

WANTED—Two salesmen for the country and two for the city. For particulars inquire at 40 and 42 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A first-class boy at the Merchants' Union Express Association. Room 10, 127 Dearborn street.

WANTED—50 cow owners at the coal yard on Canal street, near Lake, to purchase their cow manure. Apply at the office of the Chicago Coal Company, corner of Canal and Lake streets. Also, 100 cords of wood for sale. S. W. WALKER, Vice President and Manager.

WANTED—Boy for grocery store. Apply, with good reference, at 856 State street.

WANTED—A machinist to go to Europe. A good workman and steady man will find a permanent situation. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A girl to do housework in a small family. Must be a Protestant. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good girl to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good cook, washer and ironer. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good chore girl at 412 Wabash avenue.

WANTED—A No. 1 cook and second girl. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good girl to do kitchen work. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two Prussian girls to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two good girls at 235 Ontario.

WANTED—A good girl for general housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—An American, German or Norwegian girl to do general housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A competent girl to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good cook in a private family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A German or Norwegian girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

Employment Agents.

WANTED—1,000 railroad laborers, by the Illinois Employment Agency, 56 Lake street. WOLF & CO., Agents.

WANTED—3,000 men for LaCrosse railroad. Apply at 56 Lake street. H. K. KENNEDY.

WANTED—This day, 50 men for saw mills, 50 for railroads, 50 for farms, 50 for coal mines, 50 for brick yards, 50 for lumbermen, and 50 for quarries. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—This day, 50 laborers to work on farms. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—1 assistant bookkeeper, 2 salesmen, 1 boy for store, 1 boy for office, 1 boy for errands. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—1 book keeper, 2 salesmen, 1 boy for store, 1 boy for office, 1 boy for errands. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

Wanted—Miscellaneous.

WANTED—By a lady, some sewing in a private family. Call at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Boy to learn, to come on Monday morning. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Board for three ladies by a gentleman and wife, in a private family, where there is no other boarders. Address, stating terms, "A. C.," Tribune Office.

WANTED—Board for two gentlemen and wife, in a private family, where there is no other boarders. Address, stating terms, "A. C.," Tribune Office.

WANTED—A situation by a young man as coachman, and to make himself generally useful. Can give satisfactory reference. Address "MARIA," Tribune Office.

WANTED—By a lady, as governess, to travel for some wealthy family, or to take charge of children in or out of the city. Address "L. E.," Post Office.

WANTED—A machine to make wire nails. Address, stating price, etc., "NAILS," Tribune Office.

WANTED—By a young man, a situation as clerk in a wholesale or retail store. Has had several years experience in the business. Address "B. B. B.," Tribune Office.

WANTED—By a middle aged American woman desires a situation as housekeeper in a widower's family, or would take charge of children. Is a Protestant and willing to go anywhere. Address "A. B. C.," Tribune Office.

WANTED—By a young man, a situation as clerk in a wholesale or retail store. Has had several years experience in the business. Address "B. B. B.," Tribune Office.

WANTED—By a good girl to do housework. Inquire at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—By a good girl to do housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—By a good cook, washer and ironer. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good chore girl at 412 Wabash avenue.

WANTED—A No. 1 cook and second girl. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good girl to do kitchen work. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two Prussian girls to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two good girls at 235 Ontario.

WANTED—A good girl for general housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—An American, German or Norwegian girl to do general housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A competent girl to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good cook in a private family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A German or Norwegian girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

Wanted—Female Help.

WANTED—A thoroughly competent girl to do the duties of parlor and chamber work. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two girls to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two good brick layers, at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two girls to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two girls to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two girls to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Two girls to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—A good nurse to take care of a child. Inquire at 135 State.

WANTED—20 or 30 young girls to make Fancy Goods. Apply at 156 Randolph.

WANTED—Immediately, two good girls at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

WANTED—Milliners—Six experienced trimmers wanted at WALKER & HUTCHINSON, 78 Lake street.

WANTED—A first-class laundress, at 620 State st.

HOUSE SERVANTS.

SITUATION—A girl to do general house work in a small family, one that can be trusted. Inquire at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A girl to do housework in a small family. Must be a Protestant. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A good girl to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A good cook, washer and ironer. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A good chore girl at 412 Wabash avenue.

SITUATION—A No. 1 cook and second girl. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A good girl to do kitchen work. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—Two Prussian girls to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—Two good girls at 235 Ontario.

SITUATION—A good girl for general housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—An American, German or Norwegian girl to do general housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A competent girl to do housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A good cook in a private family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

SITUATION—A German or Norwegian girl for housework in a small family. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

Agents Wanted

AGENTS—Wanted—$150 per month. Agents wanted everywhere to sell our new and wonderful inventions. Four from $50 to $100 per month. Address, for particulars, M. WAGNER & CO., Cleveland, O.

AGENTS—Wanted—$3 to $15 per day. Agents wanted everywhere to sell the celebrated DOUBLE LOCK SEWING MACHINE. This machine will stitch, hem, fell, tuck, quilt, bind and embroider in a most superior manner. It is the only low priced machine in the market that will do the whole range of sewing. Address JOHNSON, CLARK & CO., Cleveland, O.

AGENTS—Two Prizes and girls for a new business, at which persons can make from $5 to $10 per day. Particulars sent free. Address, with stamp, SHAW & CLARK, Biddeford, Me.

AGENTS—Two good girls at 235 Ontario.

AGENTS—A good girl for general housework. Apply at 56 Lake street, Chicago.

AGENTS—Wanted—White wanted for Mrs. Hall's Skirt Supporter and Dress Improver. Every lady wants it. Sells at sight. Every one buying, recommends it to their friends. Every one wearing, is delighted with it. Sells to every lady she meets. Agents are making from $5 to $10 per day. Call at 63 Dearborn street, Room 3, or address HALL SKIRT SUPPORTER CO., Chicago, Ill.

AGENTS—Wanted—To sell Miche'e New General Atlas, containing every county in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Central America, West Indies, Railroad and Township Maps, Plans of Cities, Battle Fields, Indian Reservations, Statistics, etc. Address J. W. LOUDON, Publisher, 119 Nassau street, New York.

AGENTS—Wanted—To sell the Great Family Knitting Machine. Price reduced to $25. Agents can make from $5 to $10 per day. Apply to CLARK & CO., 343 Broadway, New York.

AGENTS—Wanted—To sell Machine Twines. By a first-class concern, responsible and well known. Good wages will be given to the right men. Apply immediately, or address, for particulars, WM. H. HOOPER & CO., 28 Reynolds' Block, Chicago.

AGENTS—Wanted—For my valuable and popular Subscription Books. Address, for circulars, etc., J. B. BURR & CO., Hartford, Conn.

AGENTS—Wanted—To sell the Great Life of Christ in Three Worlds. This beautiful and popular work is now ready. Agents are meeting with success unparalleled in the history of book selling. Send for circulars and see our extra terms to agents. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS—Wanted—To sell the Great Life of Christ in Three Worlds. This beautiful and popular work is now ready. Agents are meeting with success unparalleled in the history of book selling. Send for circulars and see our extra terms to agents. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS—Wanted—For Barbe's Pictorial Bible. The best and cheapest. Address, for circulars, etc., J. B. BURR & CO., Hartford, Conn

Chicago Tribune.

DAILY, TRI-WEEKLY AND WEEKLY

TERMS OF THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE:

DAILY EDITION, No. 84 CLARK STREET.

Terms by Mail or Express, Postage Prepaid.

Terms by Carrier, Postage Prepaid.

TRI-WEEKLY EDITION.

WEEKLY EDITION.

Terms of the Chicago Tribune:

Address, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago, Ill.

PUBLISHED BY THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE COMPANY.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 20, 1867.

TARIFF.

The advocates of excessive taxation, as a means of "protecting American industry," are circulating with remarkable complacency a statement showing that, of the wheat and flour imported into Great Britain in the six months ending June 30, in each of the years of 1865, '66, and '67, the percentages of wheat received from the United States was, in 1865, 6 per cent; in '66, 5 per cent, and, in 1867, 7¼ per cent; and that the receipts of flour from the United States bore about the same proportion. Upon this statement they are jubilantly demand, Where is that promised foreign market for American breadstuffs?

They also exhibit a statement showing that there is an annual increase in the American imports of British manufactures; that in 1859 the British value of the exports to America was £29,957,408, and in 1866 the value had increased to £39,404,146—an increase of nearly six millions of pounds sterling.

These two propositions, which are supposed to be conclusive as to the airport of a "protective" tariff—i. e., excessive tariff—will, if carefully considered, have quite a contrary effect.

1. All commerce is an exchange of commodities. Great Britain has manufactures in abundance, but is short of breadstuffs. Other nations have a surplus of breadstuffs, and lack manufactures. It is to the advantage of all persons to exchange their surplus productions in that market where they can get the most in exchange for what they have not for them. Great Britain purchases her grain where she can exchange her manufactures for it to the best advantage. She will sell her goods to us as cheap as she will to people of any other nation; but she will not pay us a double price for our surplus breadstuffs. She will not give two dollars in gold for a bushel of wheat when she can, so long as Russia, Poland, Prussia and Egypt will supply her wants at one dollar and a half, a bushel, or receive a yard and a half of cotton for a yard of woolen wheat. The reason this country has so sold more breadstuffs to Great Britain for three years past is partly because crops have been short, but principally because of the great cost of producing surplus breadstuffs for exportation, in consequence of an excessive tariff. The duties and the middlemen's profits on the duties add a cost of one hundred per cent to the cost of the imported goods which the consumer must pay. It requires two bushels of flour to purchase a given quantity of cloth—the cloth is exchanged for the goods, and the other is consumed in paying the tariff and the profits on the tariff charged by the importers who advance the duty to the Custom House or Collector's office. The tariff therefore acts exactly as a duty on exports. Of course our farmers cannot afford to sell their wheat for one bushel when Great Britain as the; could if they were not obliged to pay this tremendous tax on their products. The result is, that competitors of other foreign countries sell them, and drive them out of the English market, and the consequence is, that Great Britain purchases what wheat, flour, meats and barley she consumes where the duties are not taxed to death, and can therefore supply her cheaper than our farmers who are obliged to give every alternate pound of their breadstuffs for the privilege of exchanging the other pound for the cheap manufactures of England.

2. The imposition of a duty of 70 to 80 per cent upon foreign fabrics has not amounted to a prohibition of imports for the reason that the Eastern manufacturer advances the price of his wares to the exact extent of the duty, and the foreign article is sold upon a foreign article which, in the absence of a tariff, might be sold for one dollar, if duty of 70 per cent is levied. The Eastern manufacturer at once advances the price of goods of the same price at which the foreign article can be sold, and the foreign and domestic article being of the same price, the preference is given to the former on account of its association with the domestic. The tax which is thus imposed is not a protection in the sense of a prohibition, and cannot be produced, but is that much bounty paid to the Eastern manufacturers by Western consumers.

3. As the British manufacturers can not afford to buy our flour and pay the enormous tax on it they purchase elsewhere from those who can sell cheaper. But they continue to sell their goods in America as usual—taking, however, the profits which the American middle men and manufacturers advance the price of domestic competing goods to the same price of the foreign goods, with the duty added thereto. The consumer pays whether finding the home goods offered to him no cheaper than the foreign goods, purchases foreign fabrics to the extent of his means. It is clear that during the last fiscal year the gold value of foreign merchandise imported into this country in the face of a steep per-centage tariff amounted to the enormous sum of $434,233,126 while our exports for the same period amounted only to $334,004,004. The difference was paid in gold and bonds. If the tariff were doubled or trebled, it would even have the effect of crippling our power to export, only more than at present, while we should continue to purchase as much foreign goods salable in the gold for, and the balance of trade would run against us still heavier than now.

The grand mistake consists in clinging to the notion that we are protected from interests by imposing enormous taxes upon our industry. Everybody is honestly in favor of protection to American industry; but the question is, how can it be most effectually done? One class called free-traders believe that industry is best protected when exchanges of American products for foreign produce are as free and unimpeded as possible. The other class—tariff-to-trade, protection with equal tenacity that the higher the tax on articles of use and consumption the more the country will prosper, and the richer people will become! In the way of solving this apparently insoluble controversy, so that the public can see the matter in one common light?

LETTER FROM SENATOR ALCORN.

Hon. J. L. Alcorn, of Mississippi, United States Senator elect under the Johnson Government, has written a letter in reply to an invitation of certain prominent citizens of Hernando County, to address them upon public questions in the policy of the State."

Being unable to attend, on account of business engagements, he gave them its views in writing, and his letter has been published in pamphlet form. It contains matter worthy of the gravest consideration of every Southern man, and we hope it may have a very general circulation throughout the South. Mr. Alcorn calls the attention of his fellow citizens to the bill of registration in Alabama and contrasts the condition of that the former State, he says, it "knocked down, trampled on, and covered with scorn" 30,000 colored voters. In Louisiana there is a majority of 40,000 colored voters. With the white citizens of Alabama, he states, have disappeared from its suffrage, by death and disfranchisement (mainly the former) to the extent of nearly eight per cent of the white males; In Louisiana these agencies are said to have done their work on the white side to the extent of twenty-one per cent. of all the males of the State. In both of these States the adult black population is believed to have increased. General Alcorn thinks that if Mr. Field shall on the question of the people of Mississippi by those facts may serve as a torch to guide them through the darkness. "The cocoon of 1865," he says, "is safe from the frost." The vote of Mississippi at 220,000; the white males at 136,000. On the basis of the approximation made above for Alabama, these figures foreshadow the result of registration among ourselves as a colored majority of 64,000! On the basis of the approximation which has been deduced from the facts in Louisiana, the colored majority on the registration of Mississippi will reach 68,000! The reconstruction embodied in those estimates of the probabilities of the case, is, certainly, not overrated, when I assert that the Military Bill fastens down upon us, for weal or for woe, all the consequences of a large negro majority." The Loyal League is alluded to as a powerful factory in the control of the negro vote. A brief experience of its workings, the writer says, has convinced him that all which the Southern people need to do to change the constituency in a State, is to admit the loyal citizens to the right of suffrage. The preponderance of the negro population is only maintained in the interests of the will of the majority of the people.

In the Reconstruction Acts of Congress there is a fair, wise and prudent arrangement for the suffrage. On the one hand it secures the rights of the negro, and on the other it excludes from office any official rank, office or trust under either a State or the Confederate Government, and, in violation of their oaths of office, become rebels. In other words, it only excludes those who added official puppetry to treason and rebellion. All others, irrespective of race or color, may vote.

If this rule were adopted in Tennessee it would admit to the suffrage nine-tenths of those now disfranchised by State law.

We think

...PRESIDENT.

...of Procedure.
...the New York Tribune.]
...which an officer may be
...ment Secretary, and other
...documents are not defined by
...Constitution, but they must
...and be had to perils-
...and the common law. Of
...and the Senate, the Consti-
...is very comprehensive; and it
...ly provides for that many
...ssible by law, and many
...ssential character, are left
...Jefferson's officers.
...Princess of Salm-Salm, a very
...ilvia's woman, now in New York,
...rest, is not "an American lady" by
...maiden name Lothrop. Her father
...resided in Canada for several years
...very different surname, and as a Cana-
...dence in Canada he served in the
...ollege, where his daughter was born.
...mother being a full-blooded Indian
...pretty clear, from these premises, that
...Princess Salm-Salm is an Indian girl,
...a niece of President Johnson.

...Ten years ago she arrived in Philadel-
...with a German husband, now in prison
...ing, indeed, only the clothes which she
...wore. Her story, which there is no reason
...to discredit, is that her father is now very
...and her avery harshly as to make home
...happy. she had fled from Canada to
...time, according to the date of her pass-
...the Government of Canada (4,000 dollars
...(as she called herself) wanted to
...of several years, but she looked then
...four years older. She left Philadelphia
...in 1868, and joined a travelling troupe of
...she remained a sort of "star" for a
...single port of Chicago in 1869-67. The grain
...Chicago, the inhabitants of which
...wankee, Racine, Kenosha, Sheboygan,
...Green Bay, Detroit, Toledo, Sandusky and
...Cleveland, and from these ports two hundred
...eight million bushels of the grain trade of
...ing principally to market purchases for
...New York! These facts will not give much
...encouragement for New York to extend her
...harbor accommodations, or her docks and
...purpose of handling the grain trade of the
...port.

...The Shipping List has taken strong ground
...of any improved water communication
...from the lakes to the Hudson River. Most
...of the New York journals contend that the
...Erie Canal is sufficient for the commerce of
...many years to come. They favor a consti-
...tutional provision prohibiting the expenditure
...of any money for augmenting the ca-
...pacity of the public works of the State.
...This, in effect, is an inhibition upon cheap
...transportation, and a bid for the encourage-
...ment of rival routes of communication from
...the West to the seaboard and foreign mar-
...kets. If those journals persist in the advo-
...cacy of such a policy, and if that policy shall be adopted for the next twenty
...years, we say New York city will not require
...any more grain warehouses than she now
...has. Her present facilities will be ample
...for twenty years to come.

The city of New York has had the proud pre-eminence of being much the largest grain receiving port in the United States. That time is now passed, and she no longer holds that position. Her receipts of grain now receive 32,615,000 bushels more grain than New York! Would she regain the position she once had, she must, public opinion must tack ship and favor cheaper transit from the interior to the Hudson River. Her present capacity on the Erie Canal will accomplish the desired end. The West will cheerfully pay the tolls for cheaper transit by contributing the business that will produce the revenue required for them; but pay upon it she West will not contribute its business without those facilities, and simply to pay the annual interest on a hundred millions of dollars which some of our Constitutional lawyers are ready to put upon the future canal revenues. The lofty carried out will entail upon the State the loss of much grain as all the other canal cities combined.

The foregoing was written for the purpose of urging upon the city of New York the importance of providing for the speedy handling the grain arriving and to arrive at that port. The Atlantic dock which is now nearly completed has been erected for the purpose of storing and handling the grain from the British service. Previous to the existence in Canada he served in the militia, of which his daughter was born, and his mother being a full-blooded Indian, pretty clear, from these premises, that Princess Salm-Salm is an Indian girl, and a niece of President Johnson.

...ten years ago she arrived in Philadel-
...with a German husband, now in prison
...ing, indeed, only the clothes which she
...wore. Her story, which there is no reason
...to discredit, is that her father is now very
...and her avery harshly as to make home
...happy. she had fled from Canada to
...time, according to the date of her pass-
...the Government of Canada (4,000 dollars
...(as she called herself) wanted to
...of several years, but she looked then
...four years older. She left Philadelphia
...in 1868, and joined a travelling troupe of
...she remained a sort of "star" for a
...single port of Chicago in 1869-67. The grain
...Chicago, the inhabitants of which
...wankee, Racine, Kenosha, Sheboygan,
...Green Bay, Detroit, Toledo, Sandusky and
...Cleveland, and from these ports two hundred
...eight million bushels of the grain trade of
...ing principally to market purchases for
...New York! These facts will not give much
...encouragement for New York to extend her
...harbor accommodations, or her docks and
...purpose of handling the grain trade of the
...port.

...Shipping List has taken strong ground
...of any improved water communication
...from the lakes to the Hudson River. Most
...of the New York journals contend that the
...Erie Canal is sufficient for the commerce of
...many years to come. They favor a consti-
...tutional provision prohibiting the expenditure
...of any money for augmenting the ca-
...pacity of the public works of the State.
...This, in effect, is an inhibition upon cheap
...transportation, and a bid for the encourage-
...ment of rival routes of communication from
...the West to the seaboard and foreign mar-
...kets. If those journals persist in the advo-
...cacy of such a policy, and if that policy shall be adopted for the next twenty
...years, we say New York city will not require
...any more grain warehouses than she now
...has. Her present facilities will be ample
...for twenty years to come.

...Saturday, the First National officers re-
...ceived a despatch from New York that the
...drafts which they had sent were forgeries.
...They immediately set to work to investigate
...the matter and ascertain the facts stated
...above. They then sent a description of the ...person of the swindler and have widely dis-
...tributed circulars, offering a reward of $5,000
...for the detection of forger or forgers and
...of the money—$500 for the detection of the
...forger, $5,000 for the recovery of money.

It has been ascertained that prior to establishing the line of operations in Manchester, the rascal went to Montreal, Canada, under the guise of a Manchester merchant, and would find no trouble in identifying him.

"A Burns" has added another interesting chapter to the history of crime, and that sons of our best men pretty freely. There are, of course, all sorts of surprises as to the corrections and motives of the rogues, and we do not think it best to refer to the most conspicuous exhibitions of the kind. Bankers and stockholders of the First National have the hearty sympathy of the community in their losses, accompanied by the earnest hope that they may succeed in catching and punishing the rascal who robbed them.

The Princess of Salm-Salm.

[From the Washington Chronicle.]

The Turkish word "bosh" conspicuously indicates what in our country is known as "humbug." There has been a great deal of this in the newspapers relative to the late visit of Maximilian to Mexico as the "Princess Salm-Salm," her proper title being Mrs. Agnes Leclerc Joy, for she was lawfully married, nearly five years ago, to a German Prince of the highest rank of any living outside of royalty in Germany. In the seventh century the very ancient family was divided into two branches. The elder, distinguished by the Jupiter title of Salm-Salm, retained the territory on the eastern frontier of Lorraine and from Sarre-louis to Luxemburg, both on the left bank of the Rhine, and, as they now generally are, now annexed to Prussia.

To the eldest son, the head of the house, belongs the Comté de Salm-Hoogstraeten, a prolific race, and the Princes of Salm-Kyrburg, Salm-Dyck, Salm-Horstmar, and Salm-Isenburg are the Princes and Altgraves of Salm-Reifferscheidt-Krautheim and Salm-Reifferscheidt-Dyck, all these grandly-titled people having so little real or personal property that they are glad to marry those who have young women who desire to attain wealth for title, and upon what they can pick up in the military and civil service of Austria, Saxony, Bavaria, &c.

The elder branch, the veritable representative of the Salm house, is the high and mighty Alfred-Constantine-Alexandre-Auguste-Marie, born on December 26, 1814, who, being a wild fellow and a little crazy, is Prince of Ahaus and Bocholt, Duke of Hoogstraten, Lord of Peuthenque-Anholt and Leeuw-en-Zand, hereditary member of the Prussian Chamber of Nobles, etc. His family residence is at Anholt, near Bocholt, in Westphalia, a principal town with a population of nearly 5,000 souls.

The Prince himself has a large small family of eleven sons and daughters, besides several wives and sons, nephews and nieces, a number of whom are married to another, the Prince Felix-Constantine-Alexandre-Auguste-Marie, who is also a Salm-Salm, and who, in the year 1867, received a despatch from New York that the drafts which they had issued were forgeries. They immediately set to work to investigate the matter and ascertain the facts stated above. They then sent a description of the person of the swindler and have widely distributed circulars, offering a reward of $5,000 for the detection of forger or forgers and of the money—$500 for the detection of the forger, $5,000 for the recovery of money.

It has been ascertained that prior to establishing the line of operations in Manchester, the rascal went to Montreal, Canada, under the guise of a Manchester merchant, and would find no trouble in identifying him.

"A Burns" has added another interesting chapter to the history of crime, and that sons of our best men pretty freely. There are, of course, all sorts of surprises as to the corrections and motives of the rogues, and we do not think it best to refer to the most conspicuous exhibitions of the kind. Bankers and stockholders of the First National have the hearty sympathy of the community in their losses, accompanied by the earnest hope that they may succeed in catching and punishing the rascal who robbed them.

The Princess of Salm-Salm.

[From the Washington Chronicle.]

The Turkish word "bosh" conspicuously indicates what in our country is known as "humbug." There has been a great deal of this in the newspapers relative to the late visit of Maximilian to Mexico as the "Princess Salm-Salm," her proper title being Mrs. Agnes Leclerc Joy, for she was lawfully married, nearly five years ago, to a German Prince of the highest rank of any living outside of royalty in Germany. In the seventh century the very ancient family was divided into two branches. The elder, distinguished by the Jupiter title of Salm-Salm, retained the territory on the eastern frontier of Lorraine and from Sarre-louis to Luxemburg, both on the left bank of the Rhine, and, as they now generally are, now annexed to Prussia.

To the eldest son, the head of the house, belongs the Comté de Salm-Hoogstraeten, a prolific race, and the Princes of Salm-Kyrburg, Salm-Dyck, Salm-Horstmar, and Salm-Isenburg are the Princes and Altgraves of Salm-Reifferscheidt-Krautheim and Salm-Reifferscheidt-Dyck, all these grandly-titled people having so little real or personal property that they are glad to marry those who have young women who desire to attain wealth for title, and upon what they can pick up in the military and civil service of Austria, Saxony, Bavaria, &c.

The elder branch, the veritable representative of the Salm house, is the high and mighty Alfred-Constantine-Alexandre-Auguste-Marie, born on December 26, 1814, who, being a wild fellow and a little crazy, is Prince of Ahaus and Bocholt, Duke of Hoogstraten, Lord of Peuthenque-Anholt and Leeuw-en-Zand, hereditary member of the Prussian Chamber of Nobles, etc. His family residence is at Anholt, near Bocholt, in Westphalia, a principal town with a population of nearly 5,000 souls.

The Prince himself has a large small family of eleven sons and daughters, besides several wives and sons, nephews and nieces, a number of whom are married to another, the Prince Felix-Constantine-Alexandre-Auguste-Marie, who is also a Salm-Salm, and who, in the year 1867, received a despatch from New York that the drafts which they had issued were forgeries. They immediately set to work to investigate the matter and ascertain the facts stated above. They then sent a description of the person of the swindler and have widely distributed circulars, offering a reward of $5,000 for the detection of forger or forgers and of the money—$500 for the detection of the forger, $5,000 for the recovery of money.

It has been ascertained that prior to establishing the line of operations in Manchester, the rascal went to Montreal, Canada, under the guise of a Manchester merchant, and would find no trouble in identifying him.

"A Burns" has added another interesting chapter to the history of crime, and that sons of our best men pretty freely. There are, of course, all sorts of surprises as to the corrections and motives of the rogues, and we do not think it best to refer to the most conspicuous exhibitions of the kind. Bankers and stockholders of the First National have the hearty sympathy of the community in their losses, accompanied by the earnest hope that they may succeed in catching and punishing the rascal who robbed them.

A BOLD FORGERY.

A Raiders Bank "Stuck" for $7,000—The Plots Dodge Resorted to.

[From the Hudson Junction Journal.]

Some two weeks since a man calling himself A. Burns, about thirty-five years of age, five feet six or six and a half inches high, with a short auburn hair, inclined to curl, whiskers same color, nose blue, a peculiarly long, loping step, and unusually small, teeth good, inclined to talk consequentially and using some expressions indicating that he had been brought up in Southern Illinois or Indiana, and a member of the thriving village of Mammoth, in this county. Putting on "the livery of Heaven to serve the devil in," he started after remaining in town long enough to get his bearings and learn where the best place to strike, he assumed the role of a Baptist clergymen without any present charge, and, although not ordained, a minister of that denomination and some of the "brethren" believed he was a consecrated servant of the Lord. His profound reasoning powers, showed a number of theological works to have been read and digested by himself as to deceive even the very elect. He received and accepted an invitation to preach on Sunday the 19th inst., and of course, preaching with great unction, so that his vodor could be heard afar off, and though there was more sound than substance about what he said, still it was not to be expected that he would preach a sermon that has prepared the way, he proceeded to business. He had his eye on the safe in the billiard room, William J. Kirtley, well known as Jack Kirtley.

It appears that Jonnes, in company with three companions, arrived here on the Saturday night previous to the robbery, and which cost him his life. All the party were together in the store in the evening, and after closing by their "clerkship" with each other. Shortly after reaching the house Burns went into the billiard room, and amused himself in handling some of the cues, making various offerings to a gentleman's face, whose boots are being blacked. This was, doubtless, the first time Burns ever had his boots blacked, but he took a seat to have his boots blacked, learned the landlord's name, and when her husband came from the post with the mail, Burns was in no doubt in the Emperor of Austria will not be disturbed by his wife for their exertion, responsible for his brother, the late Abraham Maximilian.

News of Anchors and Forthcoming Books.

[From the Boston Transcript.]

Mrs. Stowe has already sent to the press large instalments of her new work, which is to be a sort of chronicle of old-time life in a New England village, fifty or sixty years ago. Some of the characters are said to be graphically depicted as those in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Miss Cummins, who made such a decided success some years ago with Emily Chester, has a new novel in press, called "Oyamel." Holmes is busy on the remaining chapters of his "Guardian Angel," which is to be published in book form in November. His next decisive sum has been paid to him by the publishers for advance sheets, and the novel will appear in London at the same time as in Boston.

Owen Meredith has sent over the proof-sheets of his new volume of poems to Messrs. Macmillan's New York house.

Browning is putting the last polish on his new Roman epic, having hidden himself away in a little French village for that purpose. He promises his London and American publishers to be ready for them in October.

Emerson, whose recent volume of poems "May Day and Other Pieces," has not seemed but rather increased his fame in England, is getting ready to pay the money to be read in Boston sometime this year. The lectures will be delivered in the early course last year, and will be repeated on evening course by request.

Hunting in Maine is now spending a good many summer days by the sea this month, with plenty of sport, and a little shooting. Then New York City could dispense with some of the sea-birdcages she now has for she would have but little use for them.

A BOLD FORGERY.

A Raiders Bank "Stuck" for $7,000—The Plots Dodge Resorted to.

[From the Hudson Junction Journal.]

Some two weeks since a man calling himself A. Burns, about thirty-five years of age, five feet six or six and a half inches high, with a short auburn hair, inclined to curl, whiskers same color, nose blue, a peculiarly long, loping step, and unusually small, teeth good, inclined to talk consequentially and using some expressions indicating that he had been brought up in Southern Illinois or Indiana, and a member of the thriving village of Mammoth, in this county. Putting on "the livery of Heaven to serve the devil in," he started after remaining in town long enough to get his bearings and learn where the best place to strike, he assumed the role of a Baptist clergymen without any present charge, and, although not ordained, a minister of that denomination and some of the "brethren" believed he was a consecrated servant of the Lord. His profound reasoning powers, showed a number of theological works to have been read and digested by himself as to deceive even the very elect. He received and accepted an invitation to preach on Sunday the 19th inst., and of course, preaching with great unction, so that his vodor could be heard afar off, and though there was more sound than substance about what he said, still it was not to be expected that he would preach a sermon that has prepared the way, he proceeded to business. He had his eye on the safe in the billiard room, William J. Kirtley, well known as Jack Kirtley.

It appears that Jonnes, in company with three companions, arrived here on the Saturday night previous to the robbery, and which cost him his life. All the party were together in the store in the evening, and after closing by their "clerkship" with each other. Shortly after reaching the house Burns went into the billiard room, and amused himself in handling some of the cues, making various offerings to a gentleman's face, whose boots are being blacked. This was, doubtless, the first time Burns ever had his boots blacked, but he took a seat to have his boots blacked, learned the landlord's name, and when her husband came from the post with the mail, Burns was in no doubt in the Emperor of Austria will not be disturbed by his wife for their exertion, responsible for his brother, the late Abraham Maximilian.

News of Anchors and Forthcoming Books.

[From the Boston Transcript.]

Mrs. Stowe has already sent to the press large instalments of her new work, which is to be a sort of chronicle of old-time life in a New England village, fifty or sixty years ago. Some of the characters are said to be graphically depicted as those in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Miss Cummins, who made such a decided success some years ago with Emily Chester, has a new novel in press, called "Oyamel."

Holmes is busy on the remaining chapters of his "Guardian Angel," which is to be published in book form in November. His next decisive sum has been paid to him by the publishers for advance sheets, and the novel will appear in London at the same time as in Boston.

Owen Meredith has sent over the proof-sheets of his new volume of poems to Messrs. Macmillan's New York house.

Browning is putting the last polish on his new Roman epic, having hidden himself away in a little French village for that purpose. He promises his London and American publishers to be ready for them in October.

Emerson, whose recent volume of poems "May Day and Other Pieces," has not seemed but rather increased his fame in England, is getting ready to pay the money to be read in Boston sometime this year. The lectures will be delivered in the early course last year, and will be repeated on evening course by request.

Hunting in Maine is now spending a good many summer days by the sea this month, with plenty of sport, and a little shooting. Then New York City could dispense with some of the sea-birdcages she now has for she would have but little use for them.

A BOLD FORGERY.

A Raiders Bank "Stuck" for $7,000—The Plots Dodge Resorted to.

[From the Hudson Junction Journal.]

Some two weeks since a man calling himself A. Burns, about thirty-five years of age, five feet six or six and a half inches high, with a short auburn hair, inclined to curl, whiskers same color, nose blue, a peculiarly long, loping step, and unusually small, teeth good, inclined to talk consequentially and using some expressions indicating that he had been brought up in Southern Illinois or Indiana, and a member of the thriving village of Mammoth, in this county. Putting on "the livery of Heaven to serve the devil in," he started after remaining in town long enough to get his bearings and learn where the best place to strike, he assumed the role of a Baptist clergymen without any present charge, and, although not ordained, a minister of that denomination and some of the "brethren" believed he was a consecrated servant of the Lord. His profound reasoning powers, showed a number of theological works to have been read and digested by himself as to deceive even the very elect. He received and accepted an invitation to preach on Sunday the 19th inst., and of course, preaching with great unction, so that his vodor could be heard afar off, and though there was more sound than substance about what he said, still it was not to be expected that he would preach a sermon that has prepared the way, he proceeded to business. He had his eye on the safe in the billiard room, William J. Kirtley, well known as Jack Kirtley.

It appears that Jonnes, in company with three companions, arrived here on the Saturday night previous to the robbery, and which cost him his life. All the party were together in the store in the evening, and after closing by their "clerkship" with each other. Shortly after reaching the house Burns went into the billiard room, and amused himself in handling some of the cues, making various offerings to a gentleman's face, whose boots are being blacked. This was, doubtless, the first time Burns ever had his boots blacked, but he took a seat to have his boots blacked, learned the landlord's name, and when her husband came from the post with the mail, Burns was in no doubt in the Emperor of Austria will not be disturbed by his wife for their exertion, responsible for his brother, the late Abraham Maximilian.

News of Anchors and Forthcoming Books.

[From the Boston Transcript.]

Mrs. Stowe has already sent to the press large instalments of her new work, which is to be a sort of chronicle of old-time life in a New England village, fifty or sixty years ago. Some of the characters are said to be graphically depicted as those in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Miss Cummins, who made such a decided success some years ago with Emily Chester, has a new novel in press, called "Oyamel."

Holmes is busy on the remaining chapters of his "Guardian Angel," which is to be published in book form in November. His next decisive sum has been paid to him by the publishers for advance sheets, and the novel will appear in London at the same time as in Boston.

Owen Meredith has sent over the proof-sheets of his new volume of poems to Messrs. Macmillan's New York house.

Browning is putting the last polish on his new Roman epic, having hidden himself away in a little French village for that purpose. He promises his London and American publishers to be ready for them in October.

Emerson, whose recent volume of poems "May Day and Other Pieces," has not seemed but rather increased his fame in England, is getting ready to pay the money to be read in Boston sometime this year. The lectures will be delivered in the early course last year, and will be repeated on evening course by request.

Hunting in Maine is now spending a good many summer days by the sea this month, with plenty of sport, and a little shooting. Then New York City could dispense with some of the sea-birdcages she now has for she would have but little use for them.

SAD SUICIDE.

Young Widow Takes Laudanum and Dies.

On St. Louis Democrat, August 21.]

We have to chronicle the case of a young widow who left her flight of selfish world to the land of the spirits, and who, by the hands of her own daughter, yesterday under the influence of laudanum. She resided in Carondelet, and lived by the labor of her hands. Previous to her death she was about to start on his journey, and was engaged in packing up her servant came in servant, Mrs. Temple-ton, and Morgan street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, and Morgan street, between Eighth and Ninth streets, and Morgan street, between Eighth and Ninth streets

Chicago Tribune.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1867.

THE CITY.

DOG LOST—We call attention to the advertisement in another column, of white pointer dog lost from No. 199 Wabash avenue.

FOR LAKE SUPERIOR.—The propeller "Cleveland" will leave her dock at Rhode Island Bridge on Friday evening, August 30, for Lake Superior, touching at intermediate ports.

GRACE CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC, which was postponed on Tuesday on account of the rain, will take place, weather permitting, on Saturday, the last. Arrangements same as before.

THE BUSINESS AND STEAM—HARD SELL.—We hesitated to state that the rush recently noticed by the Rock Island Rail Road Co., of Michigan City, to the Eureka Junior—not the senior end of that house.

SHOOP'S CORDIAL HAIR RESTORER.—A bottle of this extraordinary preparation, sold by all druggists, is warranted as a cure for hair falling-off or baldness, prop. Mr. Barron, No. 144 Dearborn street, is the agent.

EDUCATIONAL.—Miss C. A. Smith, No. 20 Cottage Grove avenue, will open the fall term of her preparatory school for boys and girls, on Mon day, September 16, next ensuing. Most of our readers in that vicinity have probably removed the adornment of lace curtains from the windows of unoccupied rooms, showing her to have been an ex-perienced and successful teacher.

THE PIZZEN WELL.—Parties not supplied with hydrant water will find the filter well manufactured by Tillotson & Bro., No. 146 Dearborn street, the very thing wanted to supply them with pure water at a small cost, without the trouble in surface drainage, freezing in winter, or filthy cisterns. An agricultural well, with a pump and a bench can cost less than the ordinary well, and never freeze; and the water is equal to any in our best climate, and gives the best of satisfaction.

A PLEASURE EXCURSION.—The Bridgeport and Halsted Street Methodist Sabbath schools will join in an excursion to-morrow (Saturday) to Downer's Grove, and invite all to accompany them who would enjoy a day in the country. The excursion can be obtained on the ground. Cars leave the Central Depot, at the foot of Lake street, at 9 a. m., and the Archer avenue & Quincy crossing at Halsted street at 9:30 a. m., and will return to the city at 5 p. m.

A STRONG ENDORSEMENT.—We would call special attention to the public advertisement to be found in the columns of this paper, of Mr. Frederick A. Whitehouse, on the occasion of the opening of his new store, No. 128 Dearborn street. He proposes to open his candy shop on Saturday, August 31, with a grand public exhibition of the sweet art of pulling candy. All candy remembrancers on that day will be presented to those attending. For full particulars, see programmes at the door, No. 128 Dearborn street.

WANTED A TURKEY.—Mr Adams Square.—It is stated that the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago & St Louis Railroad Companies appeal for a human or domestic turkey, strong enough to bear their depot, to be erected on the corner of Madison entirely down to Adams street, and give in the Board of Trustees better accommodations for any depot in the country. They claim that a bridge would materially interfere with their property, as the supposed will injure the prospect while a human world give close and permanent connection at all times, with that part of the city on the other side of the river.

FIRE AND POLICE.—he regular semi-weekly meeting of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners was held yesterday afternoon at their rooms on Madison street. Present—President T. B. Bryan, Police Commissioner Fred Gund, and Fire Commissioner Hesing. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. After the transaction of some routine business, the Board adjourned to meet on Monday next in the Police Court room.

THE ADDRESS.

The store, which is marked "August 25th, 1867," was then placed in position.

Rev. Robert Collyer then delivered the oration of the day; Rev. Dr. Elliot, of St. Louis, being absent. After the reading of the list of contributors and gentlemen who had so much desired to be present, but were prevented by the rain, a letter from Mr. Farnham, of New York, was read, in which he regretted his inability to be present, on account of his own engagements, and the shortness of the notice. He sent a check for $100 for the fund, and hoped that the enterprise would be successful.

Rev. Robert Collyer then announced that by the programme he should now offer a prayer. In the absence of Rev. Dr. Elliot, he would ask Rev. Dr. Tiffany, was present. He (the speaker) would not come into the smoke of battle, as the supposed will injure the prospect while a human world give close and permanent connection at all times, with that part of the city on the other side of the river.

FIRE AND POLICE.—he regular semi-weekly meeting of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners was held yesterday afternoon at their rooms on Madison street. Present—President T. B. Bryan, Police Commissioner Fred Gund, and Fire Commissioner Hesing. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. After the transaction of some routine business, the Board adjourned to meet on Monday next in the Police Court room.

THE ADDRESS.

The stone